

How to biopsy a kidney and how to manage renal autoimmune diseases

February 27th, 2009

Institute for Anatomy, Leipzig University
www.nephro-leipzig.de

Dear colleagues,

with our new ERA-EDTA sponsored CME course we provide a unique opportunity to train both your practical skills in renal biopsing as well as general management issues in patients with autoimmune diseases. The concept of Problem-Orientated medical Learning (POL) in small groups was developed by outstanding academic teachers of the Harvard-Munich teaching alliance. The practical biopsy course on specifically prepared cadavers is a joint activity of the Leipzig University Anatomical Institute and the Nephrology Division of the St. Georg Hospital. Both courses will be conducted in German language with individual advice available in English. For those of you interested to attend a German-speaking congress, the Saxon Nephrology and Pediatric Nephrology Educational Congress on the following day provides a further compact opportunity to update your professional knowledge (28th February 2008, programme available at www.nephro-leipzig.de/4SFN).

Joachim Beige Simone Wygoda Torsten Siepman

Freitag, 27th February 2009, Anatomical Institute

10.00–10.45 am | Prof. Dr. J. Helmchen, Hamburg: Histopathological approach to renal diseases

11.00–11.20 am | PD Dr. Joachim Beige, Leipzig: Indications and complications of renal biopsies

11.30–12.30 am | Dr. L. Preuschhof, Berlin: Practical approach, equipment and ultrasound handling

12.30–01.00 pm | Break

01.00–01.15 pm | Dr. S. Löffler, Leipzig: Briefing for anatomical theatre procedures

01.15–03.00 pm | All staff and participants: Renal core harvest in human cadavers

03.00–03.30 pm | Break

03.00–05.00 pm | PD Dr. J. Beige: Problem-orientated learning: Renal autoimmune diseases – A new didactic concept for preparation to Nephrology Board certification exam

Registration and fees

Registration with this form or via email until Feb. 10th 2009:

F&U confirm, Ms. Ulrike Kalteich, kalteich@web.de or fax +49 341 | 235 2782, phone +49 341 | 5 65 07 47
www.nephro-leipzig.de/4SFN

Applicants for the ERA-EDTA travel grants: please use the application form available at www.ndt-educational.org/eracourses.asp

Name, First Name, Degree .....

Institution .....

Street, Nr. ....

Zip, City, Country .....

Phone .....

Fax .....

E-Mail .....

Please tick:

Biopsy course and Tutorium: EUR 100

Nominees of EDTA travel grant: 0